The democrats have a chance to carry one of the two congressional districts of the state of Rhode Island. It makes this election peculiarly important because the congress to which the candidate will be elected will count the electoral vote. In case there is no election the house of representatives elects, and the vote is by states. If the candidate in doubt should be a democrat the Rhode Island delegation will stand one republican and one democrat and, therefore, would have no vote in the call of states. The republicans feel the danger and are trying to save the district.

The withdrawal of the Reverend Charles H. Spurgeon from the Baptist union in England is only a phase in England of what we call the Andover struggle in this country. A good many clergymen in the Baptist union in England are preaching the same views on the inspiration of the Bible, [illegible] and future probation that characterize what is now called the Andover theology. Mr. Spurgeon did not like this liberalism in theological belief and refuses to associate with [illegible] who have [illegible] of Mr. Spurgeon is a man who is doing a great deal of good, and while his withdrawal [illegible] will still be strong. Those who should in good works can afford to emphasize faith. Mr. Spurgeon, moreover, has acted with kindly Christian feeling in the matter and it would be very well if some of his narrow brothers on this side of the water will follow his example. If Dr. Wellman should withdraw from the board of trustees of Andover, and the board of foreign missions should elect as missionaries [illegible] who are giving the "most and [illegible] of money for its support, the which controversy would be settled in this country.

The election this fall seems to be unusually quiet, and will probably result in the election of the republican ticket. The fight [illegible] is lonely as the republican candidate for county commissioner, sheriff, and county superintendent of schools. Mr. Mestiane the democratic candidate for county commissioner, has been a very worthy and faithful officer, and has a large number of friends; but the republican candidate is in every way unobjectionable and will probably receive very nearly the full party vote. Len Jackson republican candidate for sheriff, has a very large circle of acquaintances in this county. He has given universal satisfaction as deputy sheriff. Most democrats will vote for him from old acquaintance. He is a faithful, energetic officer. [illegible] Mr. Berry, republican candidate for county superintendent of schools, has had good experience for the office for which he is a candidate. The fact that he has not been recently a teacher is a matter of little importance as much of what we call progress in educational matters has been rendered by successful educators. Mr. Berry is likely to poll a very large vote in Colorado City and Manitou, as well as in this city. The republicans have good reason for voting the straight ticket this fall. All the nominations were fairly made and the ticket is a very good one.

Mr. Carl Schurz recently made an address before an independent meeting in New York. A few days previous Senator Evarts, at a republican mass meeting spoke of the protection principles as a matter which could be easily borne by the people, as it amounted to a tax of only three cents a week to each person. Mr. Schurz briefly alluded to Senator Evarts' computation, and the New York Evening Post thus refers to Mr. Schurz' remarks:

Mr. Schurz's comment on Senator Evarts's "three cent joke" was received with shouts of approval. Mr. Evarts had made a computation that a tariff revenue of $100,000,000 per year was after all not such a terrible thing since it amounted only to three cents per week to each person in the United States. Mr. Schurz said that it could no more be that an annual necessity tax of three cents per week could be borne and never felt, as the raising of $100,000,000 per year was required for the purposes of government was not a matter of trifling matter for discussion of pounds and cents. He [illegible] the spending of that amount of money would sap and undermine the very foundations of republican government. This is a truth that cannot be too often repeated or too strongly insisted upon. Mr. Schurz did not touch upon the tariff in his very admirable address, but the connection between
